The South Australian Branch of Australian Lawyers for Human Rights is very pleased to invite Dr Tim Soutphommasane, Race Discrimination Commissioner, to speak on the topic of the 40 year anniversary of the Racial Discrimination Act 1975. Dr Soutphommasane was appointed as Race Discrimination Commissioner on 20 August 2013, and has lectured at the University of Sydney and University of Monash, published four books, and is a regular opinion columnist.

This is a free event that may be counted for mandatory continuing professional development purposes. The venue is wheelchair accessible. If you have any queries about disability access to the venue, please contact your ALHR Co-Convenors Sean and Holly at sa@alhr.org.au.

Please RSVP as soon as possible, and by the latest by 15 June 2015 to sa@alhr.org.au.

The Australian Lawyers for Human Rights is a network of Australian lawyers, law students and academics active in practising and promoting awareness of international human rights in Australia. We do this by hosting seminars throughout the year, as well as engaging in the public debate in human rights in the media and in response to parliamentary enquiries and requests for comment. We invite anyone interested further in membership to read further at www.alhr.org.au or email your South Australian Co-Convenors Sean O'Flaherty and Holly Ritson at sa@alhr.org.au.
